What this consultation is about

This consultation is about the future of Applethwaite Green Care Home in Windermere.

We know the valued place Applethwaite Green has in the community and the longstanding role the home has played in supporting local people for more than 50 years. The Westmorland and Furness Council home is rated “Good” by the Care Quality Commission and we are proud of the quality of care our current and past staff have continued to provide.

We are looking at the future of Applethwaite Green because the building is costly and not fit for the future of modern care. Applethwaite Green has 27 rooms, but resident numbers have declined to 16, making operating costs per resident very high.

No decisions have been taken about the final outcome. The purpose of the consultation is to gather views, understand impacts, and ensure that any future decision is informed by the experiences and priorities of those most affected.

We understand that even the start of a consultation on options for the future may be worrying for residents, families, and staff. These are people’s homes and places of work, not just buildings, and we are approaching this with care, openness and respect.

This consultation is about listening. We want to hear directly from residents, loved ones, staff and local communities so that any decision we make is informed and focussed on people’s wellbeing, dignity and safety.

Throughout the consultation period, residents and families will receive individual support, and staff will be kept fully informed, with trade unions engaged as part of the process. The council will ensure that any future changes prioritise safety, continuity of care and quality of life.

Following the consultation period, all feedback will be carefully considered and the Director of Adult Social Care will make final decisions later in 2026.

Thank you for taking part in this consultation. You will find more details below about the background to this consultation, our wider vision for the future of care, and how to take part in the consultation and find out more at community information events.

Information about the consultation will be updated throughout the consultation period at consult.westmorlandandfurness.gov.uk/adult-social-care/applethwaite-green.

If you have any questions or you or someone you know needs additional support to take part in the consultation please email care.consultation@westmorlandandfurness.gov.uk or call 0300 373 3301.

Nikkie Phipps – Assistant Director of Care Services,
Adult Social Care, Westmorland and Furness Council

A Place Called Home: our vision for care

Westmorland and Furness Council, which owns and runs Applethwaite Green along with eight other care homes, is planning the future of its care services for older residents for the coming decades.

We want to meet the expectations of an ageing population who consistently tell us they want to live their lives independently in their own homes, in their own community, for as long as possible.

Residential care homes will still be needed for people who are no longer able to stay in their own home or move to specialist housing where support or care is on-hand. This can include people living with advanced dementia or people with complex needs.

Our staff provide excellent care, but the age and layout of our building environments, and particularly the size of many of our rooms, is increasingly limiting the care we can provide.

Sometimes this means we have to turn people away who we are not able to provide care for. In particular, the number of people requiring the support from two people on discharge from hospital is increasing. We are sometimes unable to accommodate these needs because the available rooms are too small for a bed to have space on each side for two care workers.

The council's vision for Adult Social Care

Our vision for Adult Social Care is 'people living in a place they call home, with the people and things they love, in communities where they look out for one another, doing the things that matter to them.'

This vision drives a shift toward home-based support rather than residential care, independence rather than dependency, and strong community connection rather than isolation.

To achieve this we are prioritising:

- adaptations, technology and personal support to help people remain in their own home,
- reablement support and intermediate care beds to help people return to their own home after a spell in hospital, to support people to retain or regain independence in the community, or to prevent the need to go into hospital
- local access to affordable, specialist housing offering support and care, preventing or delaying the need for residential care
- modern residential care, with facilities and services that are fit for the future, and specialist support for people living with advanced dementia.

Your living choices in later life

In March the council launched a "Community Conversation" on the future of care called 'A Place Called Home: your living choices in later life'. We asked residents to think about their future living and care preferences if their need for support and care increased.

Overwhelmingly respondents preferred being supported to remain independent at home, or in specialist housing in their own community, with their own front door. Living in a residential care home, however good the quality of care, was seen negatively and only as a very last resort.

Why is the future of Applethwaite Green being reviewed now?

Residents' views and preferences from our 'A Place Called Home' survey are supporting our long-term planning for all aspects of the future of care in the coming years.

As part of this, analysis of all our care home buildings, occupancy rates and operating costs, has identified at an early stage two residential care homes where there are urgent and compelling reasons to consider their future immediately.

Last month Westmorland and Furness Council's Cabinet considered detailed reports outlining significant challenges facing Applethwaite Green, and Grisedale Croft Care Home in Alston.

These included:

- buildings with layouts and room sizes that no longer meet modern care and regulatory standards, and which are costly to run and maintain
- declining occupancy rates, leading to very high costs per person
- workforce pressures, with difficulty recruiting staff and high spending on agency staff.

The Applethwaite Green building

Applethwaite Green was constructed more than 50 years ago and has now exceeded its original design life. As such, it presents increasing challenges in meeting modern standards of care, efficiency, and safety.

Bedrooms are below the required minimum size and there is no scope to provide en-suite or dementia-friendly facilities without significant investment.

The home does not comply with current Care Quality Commission (CQC) design expectations and does not reflect the standards expected of contemporary care environments, particularly in relation to accessibility, dignity, privacy, and infection control.

The layout and configuration does not support person-centred care in line with current expectations. There are restricted communal and therapeutic spaces, limiting opportunities for social interaction and wellbeing-focused activities, and inefficient staff circulation and observation, impacting operational effectiveness and care delivery.

Costs of modernising or rebuilding Applethwaite Green

Modernising Applethwaite Green would involve extensive structural remodelling and refurbishment, moving walls to create larger ensuite rooms, which would also reduce the capacity of the home. It would involve installing new plumbing and wiring, and updating mechanical and electrical installations. It is not routine maintenance and redecoration.

It would mean the home would have to close temporarily to residents during the building work. This would be highly disruptive to the current residents, who would need to move to alternative temporary or permanent residential accommodation for an estimated 12 to 24 months.

Indicative costs, based on similar council projects in Cumbria, were stated in April as being between £2.5 million and £3.0 million, or more, depending on the scope and specification.

This range of indicative costs is subject to change due to geopolitical uncertainty and building costs rising by more than has already been allowed for.

A complete rebuild would cost more, and current residents would need to move to alternative temporary or permanent residential accommodation for an estimated two to four years.

Applethwaite Green occupancy and running costs

Applethwaite has 27 bedrooms but is operating at a reduced capacity of 16 bedrooms being available due to severe difficulties recruiting, room sizes, and a fall in overall demand. At the time of the opening of this public consultation, on 14 May, 2026, it had 16 residents.

It had an annual budget of £1.26 million for 2025/26 but at the end of December was forecast to overspend by £291,000 or 23% for the full year. This gives a forecast total operating cost of £1.55 million, plus centrally attributable overheads at an estimated 16.7%. Due to recruitment challenges and the high cost of local accommodation it has the highest spend on agency staff of any Westmorland and Furness care home – a forecast £361,000 for 2025/26.

A registered care home needs a minimum number of staff to operate safely 24/7 and to meet regulatory standards, and so has high fixed costs which do not reduce as occupancy falls. Applethwaite Green had a budgeted staffing establishment for 2025-26 of 30.31 full-time equivalent staff.

This means that Applethwaite Green had very high total costs to the council in 2025/26 of £2,315 per resident a week (based on a December 2025 full-year cost forecast and the occupancy at the time of 15).

This is the second highest cost of Westmorland and Furness Council care homes and is more than double the cost to the council of a care home place at an independent provider or a council-run home which has full occupancy.

The future of the highest cost council-run home, Grisedale Croft in Alston, is also under consultation about its future.

While the council recognises the longstanding role Applethwaite Green has played in supporting local people, in the current financial climate it would be irresponsible not to consider carefully whether such a large investment in refurbishment (consultation option 2 below) or a rebuild (option 3 below), is the best use of council tax payers' money and whether such high operating costs can continue.

Alternative provision to Applethwaite Green

There is good alternative provision of residential care in South Lakeland, with nine residential care homes rated Good by the Care Quality Commission within 12 miles of Applethwaite Green. One is in Windermere, seven are in Kendal, which has good road and public transport links with Windermere, and one is in Haverthwaite. A further three, all rated Good, are within 16 miles - two in Milnthorpe and one in Grange.

Two of these 12 homes are council run (Riverside in Kendal and Croftside in Milnthorpe), and 10 are independent.

The 12 homes have a registered capacity of 479 and on 30 April had a total of 29 vacancies.

In Windermere, there is also a Westmorland & Furness Council extra care housing scheme, Birthwaite Gardens, located in very close proximity.

What does consultation on the future of Applethwaite Green mean?

The council's Cabinet agreed in April to begin formal public consultations on the future of Applethwaite Green. The decision allows the council to consult residents, families, staff, and the wider community on options for the future, in line with its legal duties and in order to make informed future decisions.

The consultation was launched on Thursday 14 May and was planned to run for 12 weeks to Wednesday 5 August.

On Friday 26 June the consultation period was extended by 2 weeks to Wednesday 19 August so that this consultation pack and online information could be updated to ensure people had complete information and understanding of all of the options for the future of the home.

This has been done after it became apparent from responses received so far to the consultation survey, and after listening to questions and concerns raised at community information events, that the "Refurbishment" option was being chosen by some respondents as the preferred option because this would improve the home for the future while being least disruptive to current residents of the home.

While we had stated that Refurbishment would be "highly disruptive to current residents", we have now clearly spelled out that the extent of structural work required for a complete remodelling and refurbishment of the home would mean the temporary closure of the home and the temporary or permanent relocation of residents to alternative accommodation for an estimated 12 to 24 months.

Consultation information is available in formats that meet different communication needs. Applethwaite Green residents will be supported to take part, with advocacy available where required. Drop-in information events will take place in Windermere Library and Ambleside Library. (dates on page 12).

The Cabinet agreed that the council will consult on all of the following options for Applethwaite Green:

- Option 1: Do nothing
- Option 2: Refurbish Applethwaite Green
- Option 3: Demolish and rebuild at Applethwaite Green
- Option 4: Close Applethwaite Green

What do the four options for Applethwaite Green mean?

Option 1 Do nothing

- Current and future residents would continue to live in rooms that are below recommended minimum size, with no en-suite bathrooms, in a building whose layout does not align with modern models of care.
- This option would be least disruptive to current residents - but would not be able to provide the model of care that regulators and future residents will expect.
- The home would continue to have very high operating and maintenance costs, with an unsustainable dependence on agency staffing.
- Significant capital expenditure would be needed in coming years on the building and its heating and electricity infrastructure just to keep it open.

Option 2 Refurbish

- The home would be remodelled and refurbished at an estimated cost of between £2.5 million and £3.0 million, or more, with the number of rooms reduced to accommodate en-suite bathroom provision.
- Refurbishment would involve significant structural remodelling that would mean the home would have to close temporarily to residents during the building work. This would be highly disruptive to the current residents who would need to move to alternative temporary or permanent residential accommodation for an estimated 12 to 24 months.
- Operating costs would remain high as refurbishment would not solve the workforce challenges.
- Such a high level of capital investment for a home where there has been falling demand, and there is suitable alternative provision, would be difficult to justify in the current financial challenges facing Westmorland and Furness Council.

Option 3 Rebuild

- A rebuild would have a higher capital cost than refurbishment with no strategic benefit.
- Operating costs would remain high as a rebuild would not solve the workforce challenges.
- A rebuild would be highly disruptive to the 16 current residents, who would need to move to alternative temporary or permanent residential accommodation for an estimated two to four years.
- Such a high level of capital investment for a home where there has been falling demand, and there is suitable alternative provision, would be difficult to justify in the current financial challenges facing Westmorland and Furness Council.

Option 4 Closure of Applethwaite Green

For residents and staff

- Residents and families would be supported to visit alternative homes and make informed choices. Individual relocation plans would be prepared for each resident, and planned sensitively to meet updated and re-assessed care needs and minimise disruption.
- Staff consultation would begin in line with employment legislation, including redeployment and retraining options.
- A final timetable for closure would be agreed, shaped by residents' needs, market availability, and safe transition requirements.

For the council

- The very high cost and risk to the council of running and maintaining an inefficient, part-occupied care home in a building that is no longer fit for purpose would be removed.
- The financial savings on operating costs and avoidance of capital costs, would increase the ability of the council to achieve its strategy of investing in and supporting older people to remain at home in their community or in local specialist housing, and to provide specialist residential care for people with complex needs or advanced dementia.
- The site could be made available for alternative health, housing or other community use. It could also be sold, which would release funds for alternative council investment or to relieve pressure on the overall finances of the council.

Why we ask for this information

As a public authority, Westmorland and Furness Council is subject to the public sector equality duty set out in the Equality Act 2010 which can be viewed here legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2010/15/part/2/chapter/1. This means that in exercising our functions we must work towards:

- eliminating discrimination, harassment, victimisation and other conduct prohibited under the Act
- advancing equality of opportunity between those with and without protected characteristics
- fostering good relations between groups with and without protected characteristics.

One of our Equity, Diversity and Inclusion aims is to strengthen the knowledge we have about our individual service users and residents.

While sharing information about protected characteristics is not a requirement, having this information gives us more understanding of the experience and outcomes different groups of people have of our services, meaning we are better able to identify and tackle any inequalities.

It also makes it easier for us to work with individuals to develop services that are appropriate to them.

Data protection and privacy

The information you provide will be handled in line with the Westmorland and Furness Council privacy policy and in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

We may use anonymised statistics and data to inform discussions and decisions, including to improve things. However, no information will be published or used in any way which allows an individual to be identified. All details are held in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

The information that we are asking you to provide is informed by our duties under the Equality Act 2010, and includes information about your age, race, sex and health.
